

Babalawo Stephen Ifasunlade

Instructor & Theologian

Biography

Babalawo Ifasunlade is a former adjunct instructor in Philosophy and Religious Studies for the City University of New York. He has authored several articles and publications focusing on the socio-economic and political implications of political theology and existential ethics. Baba Stephen also served as a Higher Education Officer at Medgar Evers College, coordinating programming to recruit, retain, and graduate African-American males at the Male Development and Empowerment Center. Currently, Epps serves as Executive Vice President for Business & Community Relations at Robateau & Associates, a neuroscience-based speech-language pathology practice focusing on cognitive and language development.

He is a member of the Morehouse National Alumni Association, Boyer Lodge (Prince Hall Affiliation), the American Jewish Committee, Citizens Union, the Union League Club of Chicago and Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Incorporated. Baba Stephen is the proud father of two daughters, Addison and Emerson, and is happily married to Lisa Robateau of Belize, Central America.